Streamfeeder and Postmatic forge strategic alliance in mailing and graphics industry

The equipment brands' collaboration will drive innovation to meet current and future demands for customers

DUNCAN, S.C. — Sept. 3, 2024 — BW Flexible Systems, a leading global manufacturer of flexible packaging machines, today announced a strategic partnership between its Streamfeeder product line and Postmatic, an industry-recognized brand known for its mailing and packaging equipment. Together, the equipment brands will leverage resources and expertise to drive product innovation and increase manufacturing capacity. Both brands are industry leaders that share reputations for excellence in automation solutions.

Established in 1990, Streamfeeder is a globally recognized leader in designing and manufacturing automation solutions for many industries, including commercial printing, packaging and mail fulfillment. Applications include mailing, batch counting, print packaging, collation, packaging, e-commerce distribution and fulfillment.

Founded in 1972, Postmatic is a global leader in self-adhesive postage stamp affixers and transport bases, offering mailing, packaging, printing and imaging solutions servicing both the mailing and packing industry. Postmatic recently expanded its capabilities to include custom machine building and automation engineering, enabling the development of new industry solutions. BW Flexible Systems' Streamfeeder team says customers will experience advancements in product quality, parts delivery and product innovation.

"We are thrilled to partner with Postmatic, a company that shares our commitment to quality and innovation," said Doug Schulz, Streamfeeder Product Line Leader. "This collaboration will undoubtedly strengthen our production capabilities and enhance our product offerings."

Looking ahead, the Streamfeeder and Postmatic strategic alliance will enable additional opportunities for collaboration and innovation. Future steps include co-engineering solutions, developing new products and expanding Streamfeeder's capabilities to meet the ever-changing needs of its customers.

"Partnering with Streamfeeder goes full circle back to our previous collaboration more than three decades ago," said Dipesh Patel, Postmatic President and CEO. "We are excited to combine our resources and manufacturing expertise with Streamfeeder to continue innovating and strengthening our commitment to our customers across the mailing and packaging industry."

BW Flexible Systems is one of three divisions — alongside BW Filling & Closing and BW Integrated Systems — comprising BW Packaging, Barry-Wehmiller's packaging machinery group. With a global footprint spanning 25 countries, BW Packaging is distinguished by its commitment to sustainability, performance, integration and lifetime support for every solution.
